

Pitney Bowes' SendSuite Live Global Logistics Management gives you more visibility, control and choice. SendSuite Live can drive costs out of your parcel and freight spends, by giving you the business intelligence to plan and execute shipments better, faster and more effectively.

SendSuite Live gives you access to carriers' rates and services, allowing you to optimize your shipments based on your business rules and delivery requirements. It captures information from all carriers in one location, featuring a centralized interface to managing your entire shipping operation, and provides full, upfront visibility to all shipping expenses, including surcharges — and provides the tools to avoid or minimize them. SendSuite Live integrates to CRM, ERP, WMS, and order management systems to give you the ability to plan, route, and manage your supply chain — simplifying order fulfillment.

Pitney Bowes also provides payment services, which simplifies and streamlines carrier invoicing by combining parcel, freight, and transportation management services onto one statement — eliminating the need to manage multiple invoices. Shippers have the option to pay in full — or over time — adding greater flexibility and control to their cash flow.

Pitney Bowes knows logistics.

And with SendSuite Live, organizations will drive down transportation spend, create better visibility to their entire operation and have more control to make better business decisions. SendSuite Live is part of Pitney Bowes family of Distribution Solutions, which include inbound mail and parcel tracking systems, Arrival and SendSuite Tracking as well as our SendSuite Xpress parcel manifesting system.
